The Farmer Restaurant owes its name to the original Farmers Hotel. Originally built in 1864 by John Kottinger as a “house of entertainment,” The Farmers Hotel included a general store. As it does today, it sat alongside the Arroyo del Valle at the North end of Main Street. The Farmer Restaurant opened in the summer of 2009 at the Historic Pleasanton Hotel. The Farmer offers dining, live entertainment and is available for banquets and weddings.

Networking mixers are a benefit of Chamber membership.
